

ABSTRACT

A computer system (100), an ingredient manufacturer system (200), and composition manufacturers can be 5 connected online, and a system of the ingredient manufacturer obtains composition information from a system (300), and provides it for the system (100). At this time, an estimated product property and production cost can be provided.